Loan Policy

1. Specimen loans are only allowed to persons who are in permanent research or curator positions at internationally well known institutions or universities with specimen management facilities. All specimens loaned from NIBR are restricted only in research purpose.
2. We do not issue a loan for a permanent or indefinite period, and a specimen in a certain condition such as rare, fragile, unique or type.
3. To request a loan, please send an email or written request to the appropriate address at the bottom of this page. Please include the following information:
 - Borrower's name, date of birth, nationality, institutional mailing address, phone, and email address.
 - A brief description of the research project or proposed educational use of specimens.
 - A list of specimens requested. Please be as specific as possible.
 - Any specific requests for destructive research methods.
4. Loans of specimens are normally made for a period of six months unless permission is obtained for a longer term. After six months, the return of the material may be required before a re-loan is granted. Extensions of the loan period may be granted at the discretion of the curators.
5. Loans may not be transferred to other individuals or institutions without prior written permission from NIBR curators.
6. Failure of following these loan conditions may result in the loss of loan privileges for the borrower or/and the institution he/she is affiliated with.
7. Please contact the Curator or Collection Manager if you like to request a loan (<https://www.nibr.go.kr>).
